

is on fire"....The early morning rush out of Columbus is like the old days of the 83rd Division... From 6 to 7 a. m. every street corner has its local soldier residents waiting for their ride to Atterbury... So many of the 106th Division officers and men are living here it's necessary to put on an extra Atterbury bus some days... While we're on that subject, it could be mentioned that we almost missed an item about the 83rd Division... although it's No News to many... The Camp Breckinridge public relations section announced a new division has moved in there, replacing the 83rd... which the announcement says has been "transferred elsewhere"....
